

NCRC Campus Accommodation June 7-11, 2017

The University is pleased to extend their hospitality to those attending the NCRC Conference taking place at the University of the Fraser Valley.

Baker House offers nightly accommodation in apartment style units. Each unit consists of two private, single bedrooms, a bathroom with shower, kitchenette (mini-fridge, sink, and microwave) and a lounge area with a small dining table and two chairs. Each guest will have their own key and access card which provides them access to the front door of the building, their private bedroom and the communal lounges on each floor.

There is a communal lounge with a flat-screen television and comfy couches on each floor and some lounges offer additional kitchen facilities should you wish to bring your own food, supplies and cooking utensils. Card-operated laundry facilities are located throughout the building and the Front Desk can assist you with purchasing a laundry card. The outside patio, off of the main lounge on the first floor, has a BBQ for all our guests to use.

The building offers complimentary internet and should you require wireless access, this must be noted on the reservation request form.

Parking is conveniently located across the street from Baker House in Parking Lot #10 and it is the individual's responsibility to pay for their own parking each night. Our online reservation request form includes a place where the individual can request a parking pass and the cost of the parking pass will be added to the individual's account.
